Training Overview

ISO 14001 identifies the Environmental Management System (EMS) requirements that an organization can use to enhance its environmental performance. ISO 14001 framework helps organizations to reduce waste, contribute to environmental sustainability, and save money. It improves the performance of organizations by helping them reduce the usage of energy and be better for the environment. Attending this training course will enable individuals to sit in the exam to get ISO 14001 Lead Auditor certification.

This comprehensive ISO 14001 Lead Auditor training course provides delegates with in-depth knowledge of leading and completing internal and external audits on an Environmental Management System. They will gain a solid understanding of all processes required to complete the audit from start to end, including procedures, principles, and techniques. Individuals will learn ISO 14001 clauses, Environmental Management Systems (EMS), phases of an audit, EMS measurement and continuous improvement, leading audit teams, etc. After attending this training, they will also understand how to plan and prepare an audit, EMS audit procedure, evaluation of results, review gap analysis, and many more. This standard includes all the concepts starting from the basics such as ISO 14001 Foundation and goes all the way to advanced concepts of ISO 14001 Internal Auditor and ISO Lead Implementer.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

DMCT/OL/9/18(Rev3Dt:23/9/18)

By the end of this training course, the participants will be able to:

- Explain the fundamental concepts and principles of an environmental management system (EMS) based on ISO 14001
- Interpret the ISO 14001 requirements for an EMS from the perspective of an auditor
- Evaluate the EMS conformity to ISO 14001 requirements, by the fundamental audit concepts and principles
- Plan, conduct, and close an ISO 14001 compliance audit, by ISO/IEC 17021-1 requirements, ISO 19011 guidelines, and other best practices of auditing
